

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Wednesday, April 12

2000

Employees may turn in hazardous chemicals April 18

Marshall's hazardous chemical turn in "Amnesty Day" will be from 9 a.m.-2 p.m. April 18 at the south end of Bldg. 4705. It is an opportunity to dispose of chemicals where the shelf life has expired, no longer needed or unclaimed. Items that cannot be turned in are damaged, corroded or leaking containers; radioactive materials; explosives; medical wastes or materials; or household/personal wastes. For more information, call John Troy at 544-4787.

Marshall welcomes Range Commanders Council Meteorology Group

Safety shoe van here 8 a.m.-2 p.m. Wed., southwest end of Bldg. 4471

Advanced Unix audit, security training set April 24-26

Information technology security training, "Protecting your Unix network applications," will be from 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. April 24-26 at the Holiday Inn West in Madison. The course teaches how to protect Unix-based networks and servers from internal and external attacks. To attend, civil servants should submit a Marshall Form 59 to Francee Logston, CD20. Contractors may call Charlie Petty at 544-0885.

Suppliers Street Market 9 a.m.-3 p.m. Wednesday Bldg. 4203 lobby